Spooky Bonus Features Key:

Create a castle in the wilderness, all in one step!
Forget about your boring skills, choose from 50+ animals and an array of items and fight battles with your friends!

How to play:

The game consists of two difficulty levels; easy and normal. Easy requires only standard attacks of two hands. Normal comes with a couple of additional weapons.

Easy mode rules:

Let the horse go and use the usual attack ("+" button) to attack the enemies.

Normal mode rules:

Now that you've got 2 weapons; you can use those. *Use one in your left and one in your right hand. *You can reach your ranged weapon on the second half of the screen (whilst holding a melee weapon). *Dual attacking with melee and ranged is possible. *Use the Grab weapon (Secondary button) to pull an enemy towards you (useful if the enemies are close).

To avoid making it past the stage, learn to fight with all 50 options.

Additional Weapon Types

*Tackle: can be used before attacking. *Grabby: move the enemy towards you. *Ward: shields removes the enemy shield and attack power level.

All special weapons are available on "Infantry".

Ranged shield:

Teams can share a shield to control their attacks together.

Teams can only attack one enemy at a time, for safety reasons.

If one team is attacked and the shield is blown up, all members are instantly attackable except for the attacker.

Attacking a blowing up shield gains extra damage.

If a shield is blown in the same turn as you threw the weapon, the attacker is hit with the shield.

There is a story to this game, but if you can't figure it out yourself then it's not really a VR game. A group of deranged men (I'll call them Rogues because I'm tired of associating this group with a "space trading company" when they are in fact terrorists) have me captured. They have taken me somewhere that is both underground and in space, somewhere that is not yet fully established within the universe that I have created. In this area I will have to fight and survive, while trying to learn more about the world I'm in. The locations are confined as I can only go from room to room, but if I can figure out the layout of the place, I should be able to find a way to escape. You'll never know what's going to happen as you play. You'll often be given a mission by a being named "Master", who in fact isn't. He might just be lying and want you to be killed, but that's another story for another time. Your fate is in your own hands. Due to the nature of this game (I cannot guarantee a stable platform or internet connection, as it is completely made in VR) I cannot disclose any more details. I would love to put in more details, but I only had time for that bit of art. You'll have to be the judge of that, but you probably won't be. There is an in game menu to change the music, subtitles, adjust the controls and most importantly to activate the Help button. You can tell me what you think of the game by saying "Thanks" in the game. Graphics: The look and feel of this game is heavily inspired by games of the "Run and Gun" genre. There is a lot of gray and black as I got sick of having all too many colors in my eye-balls. I wouldn't describe it as run and gun, as the game is basically a puzzle with some action. A bit of "techno-chic" in the background in order to match the futuristic setting. The controls are pretty straightforward, you have to squeeze the thumbstick to move forward and backwards and tap on the left thumbstick on the right to aim. You can change the controls in the menu, but if you choose to do that then the game won't fit in your room. In order to get to

===== The blocks are falling down and you're tasked with keeping up with them all so that they will all touch the ground at the same time to clear away the blocks. As you make blocks fall to the left and right, you will need to mirror your movements and try to be mindful that the blocks on the sides have a different orientation and do not match your movement path. Try to keep a circular flow throughout the blocks so that you can keep building upwards. This game is so much fun, get it now! In the roots of a mighty tree lies a treasure with a treasure hunter that must find it but is slowly losing his sanity to the darkness. Use items dropped by the trees to collect coins and gems, use the fruits of trees to spice yourself up and find the jewels of the tree and become the ultimate treasure hunter!!

Level 0 Re-Worked Compendium - Dream Jobs « on: July 17, 2016, 02:14:14 AM » Welcome to the Airranger web site! Airranger is a free intergalactic arcade shooter, inspired by the gameplay of the original Unreal Tournament and Quake III Arena shooters of old. The game was originally created by Scott Schaefer and released on December 22nd, 2014. Airranger is built on top of Source 2 engine using the Unigine engine game engine optimization. Each game available are free to play, though DLC is available for purchase. All players will have an Ultimate/Aerotank Package for free, plus regular DLC on the way. There is no ads or botting inside the game.

*Ultimate/Aerotank Package (for all players): 2x Major Weapon Zone improvements (base normal and large increased to increase aerial weapon damage), 4x minor weapon zone improvements, 2x weapon-capping resistance, 2x base drone power (drone now increases 50%, 150%), 2x base movement speed (walk speed increases 25% and run speed 15%), and 2x base weapon power (gunner energy cost reduction by 20%). This item will be awarded to all players if they get the player story mission reward that is available in later chapters after installation. This is the default player package and all players will get it.

*DLC ( Available for purchase): Part of the Airranger Game post-release plan involves releasing the game on multiple computers at the same time, similar to the Nintendo eShop. However, such releases lack internal policies regarding compatibility. This means that user will need to have the latest NVRLS.WASP.V (or whatever version) installed in the same LAN in order to run the game. Certain other patches may be required for each different operating system. In order to address this incompatibility issue and allow multiple LAN players to play the game at once, here is a guide that shows you how to get the most out of each system:

*NOTE: Some players may need to revert back to older versions of the game via Patching. This is the easiest and fastest way to address multiple computers requiring the latest NVRLS.WASP.V (or whatever version).

*WARNING: Never overwrite your existing game files
